The Only Way is Up

Mark Horton

In a qualifying competition everyone hopes for a good start. When those hopes fail to be realized to a lesser or greater degree, it is time to start moving in the right direction. In Round 5 we'll see how South Africa and England Pryor approached the problem and also look at Austria and Lithuania.

Blue Club has been the system of choice in Austria for many years.

West led the ♦K, won the second trick with the ♠K and switched to the ♣4. Declarer went up with dummy's ace, played a spade to the jack and advanced the ♥10, putting up dummy's king and claiming on the next round of the suit, +980.

Only an initial club lead will defeat 6♠.

4♣ Splinter

After the unusual Splinter West could not find any reason to lead anything but the ♦K. Having taken dummy's ace declarer ran the ♠Q, West taking the king and switching to the ♣4. East won with the king, but declarer had the rest, +450.

Would it have occurred to you to double 4♣ with East's hand?

19 pairs bid 6♠ - they all made it.

Ruth Nikitine and Peter Schurter for Swiss Cheese preferred 6♥ – and now a club lead would be harmless!

1♠ 11-16, 4+♠, longer suit possible

North led the ♣A and when South followed with the seven he switched to the ♠3, clearly his best chance looking at dummy. South won with the king, cashed the ♣K and continued with the five, putting the contract down before declarer had started, -50.

4♥ was reached on 14 occasions – this was the only time the defenders prevailed.

South led the ♠K and North overtook it and cashed the ♣A which must have worried declarer. However, the enforced switch at trick three meant declarer could draw trumps and force out the ♣K for +420 and 10 IMPs.

The convention card says nothing about 2♠ (invitational or better, balanced, no majors - M.W.) – I wonder if East actually bid 2♣ which would have been game forcing (GF, 5+♣ - M.W.).

North led the ♠4 and declarer took all the tricks, +1470.

South led the ♥A and declarer ruffed, cashed the ♦KQ, went to dummy with a club and ran the ♠J to South's ace. Declarer could ruff the heart return, cross to dummy with a club to draw the outstanding trump and claim, +1370 and 12 IMPs, reducing England's margin to 22-12.

In Round 4 we return to the top of table for Canada West +1 against Belgium.

2♠ 10-13, 6♠

West must have been close to at least making some sort of try – looking at the CC it is not clear if 3♦ would not have been forcing.

South led the ♦Q and declarer won in dummy and played three rounds of spades for +170 – a loss of 6 IMPs.

- 2♦ Artificial game force

I had expected North to continue probing over 3♣ just in case partner had the perfect cards for 7♣, but then, as Bob Hamman has so often pointed out that is hardly ever the case.

West led the ♠6 and having won perforce with dummy's ace, declarer played a club to the queen and claimed, +920.

4♦ Cue

That was an honourable push.

Almost everyone reached 6♣. There were a couple of disasters, one when South opened 2♣ and then passed North's 2♦ when West doubled, the other when South started with 1♣ and then passed North's 2♥ after West's double.

East led the ♠6 but declarer could only muster the first eight tricks, one down, -200.

If you agree with me that it was highly unlikely that West could have a spade holding that justified a double, leading the ♦K (or ♦Q) was a distinct possibility.

As Professor Jode might have remarked, 'it all depends what you mean by minimum'.

When he continued with the ♠A followed by the queen North won and played the ♦Q and declarer ruffed, cashed the ♠J and ran the ♣J. South won and played the ♥J and that was three down, -300.

4♠ can be made – after disposing of a diamond declarer plays two rounds of clubs, subsequently losing only two trump tricks.

7 pairs played in 4♠, only Wacław Wejknis making it for Poland Andrzejki by following the winning line – it proved to be worth 14 IMPs when the same contract went three down in the other room.

13 pairs bid 6♣.
